

The no-call list is great...we need it! How many times have many of us been taken away from dinner with the family after a long day at work, or an important task we are trying to concentrate on, our exercise equipment, time with our children, or just a relaxing conversation we might be having with friends or family only to answer the phone and have it be a total disruption and intrusion on our time? That is what telemarketers are and always have been, to me. If I want a good or service I will seek it out and get it...I do not need to be "hounded" and pressured by some telemarketer. Please keep the do-not-call list active in Wisconsin.
